7b. Public Hearing: 17-SEU-02/ 17-DP-04 Thales Academy – Mr. Beard said the Town has received a request for a special exception use and development plan to establish a School use in the R-10 Residential District. All schools, both public and private are subject to Special Exception Use approval in the R-10 Residential District.

In association with the requested special exception use, the Town has received a request for a development plan for a school on the property at 11244 Holly Springs-New Hill Rd. The applicant has submitted a development plan for the 31,992 square feet building as well as several waiver requests, a variance request, and a Special Exception Use Petition that is required to establish a school use in an R-10 Residential zoned property. The property would be accessed directly from Holly Springs-New Hill Rd as well as from a connection to the adjacent Hensley Subdivision; which is currently under review.

With that explanation completed, Mayor Sears opened the public hearing. The following sworn testimony and evidence was submitted by those who had been administered the oath by the deputy town clerk:

Project designers described the proposed site plan for Thales Academy.

Beth Trahos, Raleigh, is attorney for the project -- Ms. Trahos cited an appraisal report stating that school construction would not adversely impact neighboring property values. She also provided testimony in support of findings of fact necessary for the Council to issue a Special Exception Use. Ms. Trahos then requested a number of professionals associated to the project to testify in their areas of expertise.

Travis Fluitt, a traffic engineer with Kimley Horne – Mr. Fluitt presented results of his traffic impact analysis. He testified that, with the committed improvements, the site is safe and sufficient in size and shape to manage traffic in and around the site.

Christopher Miller, Raleigh, landscape architect – Mr. Miller said the landscape design will provide adequate buffer and appealing aesthetics for the site.

Councilwoman Lee said the plan reminded her of the layout at Holly Grove.

Richard Kirkland, 4408 Northfield Dr. – Mr. Kirkland said, in his professional opinion as an appraiser, the Thales Academy would have no adverse impact that he could identify on the value of adjoining properties.

Joe Armistead, architect, 3206-112 Heritage Trace Dr., Wake Forest – Mr. Armistead said he was available for any questions regarding design of the building. He noted the raised ramparts that would camouflage mechanical systems on the roof.

Representatives of Thales Academy said components of the curriculum had a classical focus.

Michael Roach, director of development for Thales – Mr. Roach responded to the question about the speed limit. He noted that it is the authority of NCDOT, which won't likely establish a school zone speed limit. He added that if speed becomes an issue, then NCDOT will look at it further.

With that expert testimony, Ms. Trahos submitted that the application meets all the requirements to be granted the requested waivers, variances and special use permits..

There being no further testimony, the public hearing was closed.

Councilman Dickson said he had no issue with the height of building or glazing, but he does have an issue with access to the front of the building from the sidewalk.

Several on the Council said the lack of a connection from the sidewalk to the front door was concerning.

Mayor Sears reopened the public hearing to allow the applicant's attorney to offer alternate options.

Ms. Trahos described an alternate design idea. She said stairs could be added. She said the applicant believes it would help strengthen the plan and would accept stairs required as a condition of approval on the development plan.

There being no further testimony, the public hearing was closed.
